
SIMULATE WAR OF THREE KINDS.

Attacks on Fleet from Above, Below and Surface.

Atlantic Ships Will Be at It for Two Weeks.

Hazardous Programme With Long-Distance Fire.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—At dawn tomorrow the Atlantic fleet, the real power of the American navy, will begin its spectacular summer practice off the Chesapeake capes under simulated battle conditions. These exercises will be more difficult than any ever attempted by the navy. Realizing that future combats will be fought at great distances, not a shot will be fired at less than 8000 yards. Maximum ranges of practice will be 16,000 yards, or more than nine miles.

FOR TWO WEEKS. Instead of holding the practice for two or three days, as has been the custom, the navy department has extended the programme over a period of two weeks that the battleships may be sure to encounter rough weather. It is expected the navy cannot choose its time of conditions of battle and for that reason the elementary exercises of the past have been abandoned for two great battle practices in the open sea each year.

OF THREE KINDS. Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, the commander-in-chief of the fleet, will be called upon to meet the onslaught of an enemy from the air, from the surface of the water and from under the sea. Before the practice closes, the dreadnought Delaware will make a second attempt to destroy the San Marcos (the old Texas), and end this ship's existence. Only a few days ago, she was almost shattered to pieces by the Delaware's twelve-inch rifles, at ranges of 15,000 and 13,000 yards.

WOULD BETTER HORSEMANSHIP. American Army Officers Sent to France to Study Equestrian Methods to Improve Cavalry.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The war department is struggling to make the American cavalry soldier a perfect, fearless, dashing rider, like his forebears in the days of the Indian campaigns. With that end in view, Capt. Conrad A. Babcock and Henry H. Richmond, all of the cavalry, are about to leave this country for a year's tour of instruction in equestrianism at the French school at Saumur. The advance of civilization across the continent and the advent of the automobile and airplane are the cause of the decline of the cavalry, in the opinion of army officers. The United States possessed a fine natural cavalry, whose dashing, fearless, and hardy qualities were the result of duty and of the hardships of the West and the horse soldier. With the flow of population to the West and the horse soldier, all this has been changed, they think, and the perfect rider today is a civilian, not a soldier. Upon the return of the officers from their tour, they will be appointed instructors in the American mounted school, which expects to gain all the advantages of the well equipped European institutions, and thus develop a new school of equestrianism.

NO TEACH AGRICULTURE. NEW PLAN FOR YOUNGSTERS. (BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The department of education has announced a plan for the instruction of children in agriculture, which is to be carried out in all the schools of the country. The plan is to have the children of the country learn the value of the soil, and the importance of the farmer, by teaching them the principles of agriculture. WHERE EARTHQUAKES. Richter Towns Are Rocked and Buildings Cracked.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) PANAMA, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Severe earthquakes occurred in Costa Rica Sunday night. A shock of life occurred, but some damage was done at San Jose and in the vicinity in the way of cracked buildings.

The shocks created considerable alarm among the people who feared the approach of the Carthage earthquake.

AMERICAN MAIL LINE. Filed in Brazil For Commencement to Operate Between Rio de Janeiro and New Orleans.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The charter of the American Mail Line, known as the American Mail Line, was yesterday by Sidney Story, president of the line, was taken in compliance with the laws of Brazil, which require that the company business in Brazil be conducted by a Brazilian citizen. The Brazilian government asked Congress to vote the new line, which will connect between Rio Janeiro and New Orleans.

WILL MARRY IN FRANCE. Must Answer. CHARGES FILED AGAINST MINARD.

Principal of the Marquette School in Chicago, Who Wedded Soon After the Suicide of His Wife, Is Alleged to Have Damaged Good Name of Educational System.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles W. Minard, principal of the Marquette High School, will not be permitted to resign. Today the principal, now under charges, was formally suspended and was notified to appear before the school management committee of the Board of Education on September 7 and answer the charges.

Mr. Minard was first called before the committee early in June, following the death of his wife, Mrs. Mattie R. Minard, who committed suicide on June 1, during the unexplained absence of her husband. At that time the school master made an explanation, and was retained in his position.

On August 1, eight weeks after the death of his first wife, Minard was secretly married to Mrs. Bessie Benson, in Waukegan, Ill. Minard is alleged to have given his home in Grand Rapids, Wis., and his occupation as a farmer. Minard and his wife are now in Grand Rapids, Wis., living on a farm belonging to the school principal.

In her charges against Minard, filed before the school management committee, Supt. Ella Young asserted that the publicity which has been given his action is inflicting great injury on the good name of the Chicago public schools.

WOMEN WILD STREAK. Southern Pacific Finally Learns It and Calls In All the Linen Towels They Covet.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific Company has discovered that women will steal. Because of this conclusion, every ladies' dressing and wash room on all the company's ferry boats and cars has been stripped of towels. Before the order was issued the effect of the attention of the higher up was called to the towel vanishing. At the same time the order went down the line to see just how much such an insignificant item as towels for the women's washrooms was costing the company.

Back came the reply: $21,120 a year—$60 a day.

"Well," said the man in control of the railroad's finances, "this is pretty steep. Call in every towel. Let 'em use handkerchiefs after this, if that's the way they're going to treat us. Treat them the same as the men."

And this morning, General Superintendent James M. Davis sent forth the order calling in all the towels, linen, and everything of the sort.

Discovering any of the lavatories in the cars, the men were ordered to turn in all that they had. The men discovered that the stolen silverware was being sold in the city.

The complaint on which the warrant was issued was lodged by Joseph R. Blumenthal, who charged that the three Parker boys, Thomas, Charles and Edward, had burgled his home and stolen his silverware.

CONFERENCE OVER MOROCCO.

Premier, Cabinet and President of France Meet to Discuss What Amounts to Near-Ultimatum.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.) RAMBOUILLET (France) Aug. 31.—Premier Caillaux and his colleagues in the French Cabinet met at the chateau of President Fallieres here today and listened to the narrative of Justin Desvres, the foreign minister, concerning the latest development of the negotiations with Germany on the Moroccan question. The Cabinet approved in principle the instructions to be given to the French Ambassador at Berlin.

Julius Fams, the Minister of Agriculture, was instructed during the conference to investigate the underlying cause of the high price of food which has resulted in rioting in the northern departments of France.

While the Cabinet's instructions to Ambassador Cambon cannot be regarded as suggesting an ultimatum, announcement, the maximum terms which France is willing to offer to Germany.

The instructions endeavor to phrase the French condition of Germany's position in Morocco and they authorize the French Ambassador to offer to the German Ambassador the exchange of French Congo in exchange for the absolute recognition by Germany of France's rights in Morocco.

THE CAMORRA TRIAD. Woman at Whose House Murderers Are Alleged to Have Washed Their Hands on the Stand.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) VITERBO, Aug. 31.—Testimony presented at today's session of the Camorra trial was of a contradictory nature. The son of a porter at the house of Maria Stendardo was the first witness. At her house, the carabinieri allege, the assassins of Gennaro Cuocolo and wife changed their clothes and washed their hands to remove tell-tale marks received in the commission of the crime.

The witness continued his statement of the carabinieri that Nicola Morra and Giuseppe Salvi, two of the alleged actual assassins, visited the Stendardo house on the night of June 15, 1906, the date of the crime. The boy declared that the woman sent him with a parcel supposed to contain blood-stained clothes to the house of another Camorrist.

The police and a night watchman asserted that Morra was not at the Stendardo house that night. The remainder of the sitting was taken up with other conflicting testimony regarding Cuocolo's ring, which the carabinieri say they found in Salvi's house, and with the prison gossip concerning alleged confessions of guilt made by some of the prisoners.

BABE PLACED UNDER ARREST. Three-Year-Old Boy Charged With Assault and Battery—Perambulator As Patrol Wagon.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.) JERSEY CITY (N. J.) Aug. 31.—The arrest here of Thomas Parker, a three-year-old child, on a charge of assault and battery, is believed to establish a record for the United States. So far as police records available here show, Thomas is the youngest prisoner ever taken to an American jail on a formal charge. The prisoner rode to the second precinct police station in his own carriage, with his mother as the motive power.

Cascarets Work While You Sleep.

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy and disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

per boxes were a number of women of the Madero family, including the wife of the nominee, who had been his companion in jail, on the battlefield, on his tours of pacification to the south and who accompanied him to the convention hall.

Following Madero's address, Sen. Rindon, one of Mexico's ablest lawyers, in an eulogistic address, called attention to the presence of Mrs. Madero. Briefly he outlined her services to the cause and when he had finished the delegates rose to their feet, faced Mrs. Madero and shook the house with their applause.

QUIET LISTENERS. When Madero began to speak the audience became quiet. With the exception of the speaker's voice, scarcely a sound could be heard. A cough here and there was a signal for indignant glances.

That his administration would do all in its power to carry out the wishes of the country, Madero assured the delegates, but he reminded them that all changes would be brought about by legal process which, he pointed out, would require many cases months and possibly years.

Madero explained that one delay which might be expected would doubtless be due to the enforced use of a part of the old Diaz regime, namely, the Federal Congress. Members of this body would attend their seats by virtue of appointment by Gen. Diaz, according to Madero, and he declared that they would be permitted to leave only when they were only reasonable to suppose that until successors, named by the people, occupied their seats, opposition to reform might be expected.

APPROVES PLATFORM. Plank by plank, the nominee of the party discussed the platform; and expressed his approval of it. Regarding the plank in which it is provided that no monopolies or special privileges shall be granted, Madero declared that this should not be taken to mean that his administration would be antagonistic to foreign capital. He insisted the money of the foreigner would be treated on an equal basis with the money of the Mexican; that all foreign capital would be given ample protection; but he emphasized the statement of the platform that the government in the future would be an enemy to all monopolies.

Dinner Sets

Genuine Coin Gold Band Decoration

It is widely known that the product of the famous series of the Homer Laughlin China Company and the les, Taylor & Co.

their exclusive patterns being handled by the best houses in Los Angeles, and the goods rank in quality with best foreign ware.

Never before has such splendid ware been offered at premiums with newspapers. By a special arrangement THE TIMES is able to offer the product of both of these potent factors to its patrons, old or new, on an exceedingly attractive basis.

Genuine coin gold band decoration, with most expert workmanship, is used on either of these two patterns.

Sample sets are on exhibition at THE TIMES OFFICE for inspection of patrons, old or new. You are invited to call and inspect them in person or telephone to the office. A representative will be sent out to your home to show you the ware and explain the conditions under which they may be secured.

The following contract may be signed and sent in to TIMES office by mail or otherwise:

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY:

I hereby agree to subscribe for THE TIMES daily and Sunday, to the amount of twelve (12) months, and to pay regularly every month at the rate of 50 cents per month, in consideration of which I am to receive one 32-piece Dinner Set (Lotus shape), genuine and hand decorated. Said dinner set is to be delivered to me within 30 days after approval of this contract by THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY. It is further understood that said dinner set shall remain the property of THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY until this contract has been fully paid. I promise to notify THE TIMES at once should I change my residence.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.
STIRRED BY BRUSH FIRE.
A brush fire, which burned over about 100 acres of land, west of Pasadena, on the road to the mountains, was extinguished by the fire department. The fire was caused by a lightning strike on a tree, which fell on a power line, causing a short circuit. The fire was discovered by a patrolman on duty, who called the fire department. The fire burned for about an hour before being extinguished. The damage to the land was estimated at $10,000. The fire was the first of the season in this section of the county.

Var Bullet Produces Veteran's Death.
A bullet, which was fired from a rifle, struck a veteran in the chest, causing a fatal wound. The veteran was a member of the Spanish-American war. He was shot while he was working on a farm. The bullet was fired from a distance of about 100 yards. The veteran was taken to the hospital, but he died before he could be operated on. The shooting was the result of a quarrel between the veteran and a neighbor. The neighbor was charged with the crime, but he was acquitted. The veteran's death was a great loss to his family.

Trial Is Cause of General Weeping.
A trial, which was held in a court of law, caused a general weeping among the people. The trial was held in a court of law, and it was a very sad one. The judge was weeping, and the jury was weeping. Long Beach, Aug. 31.—Post-office inspectors and the local police have been busy all day seeking a trace of a young fellow who is believed to be a postoffice robber, and who sought last night to dispose of some of his plunder. Early last evening a young man of rather ordinary appearance appeared at a local business house and, asking for the proprietor, drew him aside and confidentially opened negotiations for the sale of some postage stamps contained in a package which was about an inch thick, but of what denomination is not known. He said he was in need of money and was willing to make a sacrifice to effect a sale. The proprietor of the store declined to have anything to do with the matter and the fellow left the store.

LINER DELAYED BY FOG.

Steamer President Arrives at San Pedro Several Hours Late—Ask Trolley Terminal Change.
SAN PEDRO, Aug. 31.—The Pacific Coast Steamship Company liner President arrived this morning from San Diego and, after taking passengers and additional cargo cleared for Seattle via Redondo Beach and San Francisco, seven hours behind her schedule, having been delayed by unusually heavy fogs in San Diego Harbor this morning. Scheduled to clear at 10:30 a.m., the President did not get away until 5:30 p.m., carrying more than 400 passengers and 600 tons of miscellaneous freight and merchandise. Passengers for San Francisco included W. L. Patten, president of the Glendale Water Company, and family; G. B. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the Stromberg Printing Company of Chicago; Jesse T. Waterman, president of the First National Bank of Rockford, Ill.; T. J. Lyon and wife of Philadelphia; Alexander Cashmere, president of the Puente Oil Company of San Francisco; and Mrs. C. J. Talbot and P. F. Baylis, Pasadena.

WOMEN ASK CHANGE.
Petitions addressed to Paul Shoup, general manager of the Pacific Electric, are being circulated today by a committee of San Pedro women, requesting that the San Pedro terminal of the company be changed from Fifth and Front streets, back to Sixth and Palms Verdes streets, where it was formerly located. The petitions are being numerously signed, and will be presented in person to Shoup. The cars are now stopped in the middle of the street, and the objection is made that the present terminus is not a desirable one for women and children to wait for cars.

Trout fishing and deer hunting are fine at Wheeler's Springs.

BIG YELLOWTAIL CATCH.
Launch Brings in Over Ton of Finny Fighters at Redondo Beach Taken in Pursue Net.

REDONDO, Aug. 31.—The launch Ina returned yesterday with a tremendous catch of yellowtail. The party, consisting of Fred Parker, John B. Smith, Benjie Siebert and Andrew Jackson brought in 2322 pounds of the yellowtail, which they caught in a purse net. The fish averaged about twenty-eight pounds. Today although mackerel and halibut were plentiful from the wharves there were no yellowtail caught.

About seventy-five members of the Evangelical Prayer Union of Los Angeles will attend the retreat to be held here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Rev. Mr. H. C. Waddell, director of the prayer union, which is interdenominational, will have charge of the retreat. The officers of the union are: Rev. Mr. L. Rowell, chairman, and Rev. Mr. J. M. Ross, secretary-treasurer. The meeting will go on all morning, afternoon and evening, and will consist of conference and prayer.

Harold, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Waddell, died this morning at 6:30 o'clock at the Cushman residence on Irena street, from blood-poisoning and a complication of diseases. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Cate undertaking parlors, and the remains will be buried in the Redondo cemetery at Belvidere.

John Connor, who while crazed with drink, yesterday, created a disturbance on a wharf, was given thirty days in the county jail. He was charged by Marshal Stanchfield and Officer Guthrie, as he made a mad rush at a moving Santa Fe switch engine, which he would not let go because it belonged to the Southern Pacific.

About forty delegates to the Grand Lodge of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, which was held at the convention at San Francisco were guests of the local lodge here this afternoon. The Eagles were shown in the Casino and shown the city.

VENICIANS GO FEMINE.
City Club Indorses Woman's Suffrage, But Seeks to Defeat Special Bond Tax.

VENICE, Aug. 31.—The Venice City Club placed itself squarely and unanimously on record as in favor of the suffrage amendment to the constitution, but it also introduced a resolution, introduced by Dana Burks, which had the approval of the Board of Governors.

In order to encompass the defeat of the special bond tax, if possible, at the election to be held September 8, the club has appointed a large campaign committee. An appeal has been issued to all voters and copies of this will be placed in each home. Members of the club will make a house-to-house canvass in opposition to the levy of the tax, promising to visit every elector in the greater city.

The committee will hold a meeting every evening from now until election day, and while the polls are open automobile brigade will travel the streets from end to end, singing the Good Government League has its committees at work, and will hold a debate on the subject of the amendment of the issue, which means a tax of 15 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation for bond, amusement and advertising purposes. The committee will be called in accordance with the provisions of the law enacted by the late Legislature.

SHOWS RETURNS HANDSOME.
Statement of the Monrovia-Duarte Fruit Exchange for the Year—Amount Paid to Growers.

MONROVIA, Aug. 31.—The annual statement of the Duarte-Monrovia Fruit Exchange, sent to the printers by Secretary A. T. Blain today, shows that the organization paid growers $111,000 for the citrus product of 1910-11. The report of the association deals with the entire crop of each year and does not, as is a frequent practice, include valuations of the preceding season with the naval shipments of the current year.

To Investors

Within the past week the following advertisement has appeared in the daily press of Los Angeles:

FOR SALE—COFFEE PLANTATION LOCATED at Boquete, Province of Chiriqui, Republic of Panama.
300 acres set out in Coffee Trees, 16 years old, with large house and all necessary out-buildings. One of the finest plantations in the Republic. Price $40,000 gold. Property is earning 20 per cent. per annum on the price. Terms $10,000 gold down and a mortgage for $30,000 at 8 per cent. for as long as may be desired. A 90 day option will be given the purchaser to examine the plantation and verify the earnings, which have exceeded $8000 a year for the past five years.

PAN-AMERICAN INVESTMENT COMPANY.
We know the above property and that the statement of earnings is correct; furthermore, that there is no better Plantation in the Republic but, we wish to say this, we have Government lands, adjoining this property at $6.00 an acre, payable $3.00 down and $3.00 in four years, which are equally as good, all they lack is cultivation. What has been done by others can be done by you and there is no better purchase in the entire world than these Government lands, which are destined to greatly increase in value with the opening of the Canal. Come in today.

Anxiety in Santa Monica About Proposed Opening of Thoroughfare Toward Sawtelle.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—Although the date has been set for the widening of Fremont avenue from the sea to Sawtelle on the east, residents along the two-mile route are growing restive. The matter has been pending more than fifteen months and those who have paid their assessments are anxious to see the improvement under way.

They expect it to enhance their property and bring new light into the city. The paving of this boulevard and the extension of the work along Tennessee avenue, through Sawtelle and thence eastward by the county across the Wolfekill-Sunset tract to connection with Wilshire boulevard will give Los Angeles its nearest and most direct route to the Pacific shores at any point. The new road will pass the site of the new High School and will cross the Pacific Electric's back country extension on Eighth street. It will open to completion a desirable section of the city that has heretofore been without easy means of access.

OPIMUM SMOKERS RAILED.
The sum of $75 was contributed to the city treasury today as the net result of a raid on Chinese opium smoking joints in the laundry zone. By two raids by the police a wagon load of the poison, pipes and paraphernalia was taken and eight celestial were taken in tow. The convincing evidence is to be burned in the garbage when the slight cases are disposed of. Five arrests were for having the drug in possession and three were for frequenting a place where opium was being smoked. The accused entered pleas of guilty and paid fines of $25 each. The other cases will be tried later.

YOUTH WOULD BE A MAN.
Twelve-Year-Old Lad Travels Alone and Puts up at the Best Hotels with Sang-froid.

"Some traveler," opined the clerks at the Alexandria when W. A. Raymond, a 12-year-old boy from Portland, registered, ordered a fine room with bath, and acted as nonchalant as any grown-up. The boy, who is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, is a native of Portland, Me., and is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Anxiety in Santa Monica About Proposed Opening of Thoroughfare Toward Sawtelle.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—Although the date has been set for the widening of Fremont avenue from the sea to Sawtelle on the east, residents along the two-mile route are growing restive. The matter has been pending more than fifteen months and those who have paid their assessments are anxious to see the improvement under way.

They expect it to enhance their property and bring new light into the city. The paving of this boulevard and the extension of the work along Tennessee avenue, through Sawtelle and thence eastward by the county across the Wolfekill-Sunset tract to connection with Wilshire boulevard will give Los Angeles its nearest and most direct route to the Pacific shores at any point. The new road will pass the site of the new High School and will cross the Pacific Electric's back country extension on Eighth street. It will open to completion a desirable section of the city that has heretofore been without easy means of access.

OPIMUM SMOKERS RAILED.
The sum of $75 was contributed to the city treasury today as the net result of a raid on Chinese opium smoking joints in the laundry zone. By two raids by the police a wagon load of the poison, pipes and paraphernalia was taken and eight celestial were taken in tow. The convincing evidence is to be burned in the garbage when the slight cases are disposed of. Five arrests were for having the drug in possession and three were for frequenting a place where opium was being smoked. The accused entered pleas of guilty and paid fines of $25 each. The other cases will be tried later.

Discovery Recalls Incident in Camp in Little Creek Canyon, Where a Crazy Man Drove a Companion from the Place at the Point of a Gun—Big Grape Harvest Now on.

CUCAMONGA, Aug. 31.—A chewed up hat, a coat and a Bible prospectus were found yesterday, just north of Cucamonga, in the mountains, by Mark Krysio and Homer Crumley, who were hunting. The hat had been chewed by rabbits, but the other articles remained undisturbed.

A postcard in the Bible, bearing the postmark of Visalia, addressed to George Burnett, Fresno, and signed Sister Ruth, was found. Two other addresses on the postcard were G. A. Driver, No. 1714 K street, Fresno, and The Meade, No. 1913 Maricopa street, Fresno, written on the side.

Angry Spectators Hiss When Defendant Appears.

Big Water Suit Ended by the Supreme Court.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 31.—Dr. A. W. McDevitt late this afternoon was held for trial in the Superior Court for the part he played in the imprisonment for fifteen months of Jessie McDonald, rescued from her office cell on the night of August 15, with a 4 months' old child.

As the throng was leaving the courtroom this afternoon, following the announcing of the decision of Justice J. B. Hanna of Colton, who tried the case, D. McDonald, the girl's father, attempted to avenge the wrongs of McDevitt to his daughter.

The gray-haired man rushed at the prisoner with upraised and clenched fists. Once before he had nearly beaten McDevitt to death, and the prisoner cowered before the onslaught of the grief-stricken parent. Before McDonald could reach the side of the prisoner, he was restrained by one of the dozen officers who stood guard about him. McDonald's attempt at the life of McDevitt was anticipated and throughout the trial an officer sat near to him, and between him and McDevitt. In the turmoil of the adjournment of court, however, he evaded the officer and rushed toward McDevitt.

The courtroom was instantly in an uproar, and McDevitt was hissed by angry men who raised their clenched fists at him. Surrounded by seven stalwart deputy sheriffs, the prisoner was rushed across the street to the jail. When the prisoner was led to the courtroom for the afternoon session, the mob that gathered hissed and hooted him.

There were two witnesses at the hearing, Miss McDonald, who was on the stand throughout the morning and for an hour this afternoon, and Dr. J. S. Mosche, who occupied the room adjoining her dungeon.

With halting voice and quivering lips, and eyes that were moist with tears, the girl told her story. Women in the courtroom sobbed their sympathy for the girl who was put through a terrible ordeal by the attorneys. She never flinched, and without a murmur of protest she quietly told the details of the long imprisonment.

Not once in ten long months had she seen the light of day, except through her darkened window. She could recall the last time she had seen out of her dungeon, as though she had feasted for months upon the thought of that outing. It was the second Sunday in November that she was last allowed to go out of the room by McDevitt. Then he took her for a long buggy ride. It was the last. Shut in the room she was denied even the necessities of life.

She was left by McDevitt, she swore, for days at a time without food. During her entire stay she never had a new gown, not even the semblance of new clothing. She had bought new underclothing twice, once in winter when the cold in the freest office became so severe, and again in the summer.

Immediately following Mancha's testimony, the prosecution submitted the case, and the defense rested. Justice Hanna immediately announced McDevitt would have to face the Superior Court on the charge cited in the complaint, which sets the dates at between July 1 and August 15, this year. The new and revised act which the defendant's attorney holds does not apply to McDevitt was in effect at that time.

McDevitt was tonight hurried away from the city by the sheriff and a party of armed deputies in an automobile to prevent the possibility of attempted violence. As before, the destination of the prisoner was kept secret by the officers. The sentiment against the dentist became even more bitter than before with the telling of the story of the girl on the stand.

When the hearing started today the officers cleared the courtroom of all spectators under the age of 18, and forced women who had brought their children to leave.

BIG WATER SUIT ENDED.

What has been one of most memorable water suits in the history of the State has been brought to an end after thirteen years of litigation, and after a number of defendants, plaintiffs and attorneys connected with the case have died. The end comes with the decision of the Supreme Court sustaining the famous Cucamonga Springs water trial.

The case has been in various stages of progress in the Superior, Appellate and Supreme Court since 1897.

By reason of a new issue at stake and the reputation of the attorneys in the case, the suit attracted wide attention for years. In 1898 some of the owners of water rights of Cucamonga Springs, formed the Cucamonga Water Company, which began to drive tunnels and bore wells close by. The springs almost ceased to flow, the water being cut off by wells.

These owners of rights in the springs who did not join the company were shut out from water. The case reached the courts, and the Supreme Court has now affirmed the decision which provides that the Cucamonga Water Company must restore the flow to those who have proved priority rights to the springs. The company can continue to develop water, but must first provide the original owners of the springs with their share before disposing of the remainder.

CAPTURES TWO BURGLARS.

Single-handed, Patrolman C. W. Collins at an early hour this morning captured two burglars who were armed with nine revolvers. He found the men, who were carrying the guns, emerging from the rear of a door of a business house. There were three of them. One he caught before he could make a move to run, and another was brought to bay with shots from a revolver, one bullet striking the fleeing man's leg. The third escaped. The men had robbed the store of C. W. Smith.

COUNTY'S SCHOOLS GROW.

Showing Made by Superintendent for Imperial-Automobilists Ask for Road Improvement.

EL CENTRO, Aug. 31.—Statistics of the Imperial county schools, just completed by County Superintendent Coolidge, show that at the beginning of the last fiscal year there were twenty-nine districts in the county, and that in the year five new districts were formed. The county has one concrete and one High School building, and one concrete, four brick and one Phoenix automobile road race in November. Racers making the run over the course say that the worst stretch of road lies between El Centro and Yuma. The men in charge of the road races also desire the Imperial county officials to place signs along the course, clearly marking the way, so that there shall be no danger of turning off into the many side roads.

WANT ROADS IMPROVED.

A call has been issued for the improvement of the course through the southern part of Imperial county, to be used by the Los Angeles-El Centro-Phoenix automobile road race in November. Racers making the run over the course say that the worst stretch of road lies between El Centro and Yuma. The men in charge of the road races also desire the Imperial county officials to place signs along the course, clearly marking the way, so that there shall be no danger of turning off into the many side roads.

IMPERIAL VALLEY BRIEFS.

Nearly all of the schools of Imperial county will open on September 18. The Christian Scientists have secured the use of the Holt Opera-house at El Centro, for their services and will resume their meetings next Sunday.

The ranch-house of C. A. Hagerty, located a half mile west of the McCabe Methodist Church, southwest of El Centro, was burned, with all its contents, early this morning. A $500 piano, a wedding gift to a daughter recently married was among the goods destroyed.

Mrs. Mary E. Rumsey, aged 67, mother of Roy L. Rumsey, a merchant of El Centro, died at San Diego the 22nd inst.

Grapes are being shipped daily from the McPherrin ranch, north west of El Centro and shipping will continue until the Christmas holidays.

Prof. C. A. Ragan, formerly head of the El Centro schools, has been appointed to take charge of the agricultural department of the Chaffee Union High School at Ontario.

El Centro is to have a new creamery. Hugh Davis has ordered a modern equipment with a capacity of 100 pounds per churning, and a portion of the machinery has arrived here. He will have the plant in operation in the coming month.

Engineer C. N. Perry has gone to Calexico to receive report on the project of the Sociedad de Irrigacion, who have returned from a trip down into Lower California, in the vicinity of the Volcano Lake.

Leave Fishing Rights from Owners of Santa Cruz Island, Near Santa Barbara, and When White Poachers Are Ordered Off Preserves III Feeling Is Stirred.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 31.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Because a number of Japanese fishermen, who claim to have the exclusive privilege of operating along the shores of Santa Cruz Island, are demanding rentals from American fishermen, there promises to be a miniature war among members of the two races. In fact, the conditions are declared to be serious and there were indications today that there may be bloodshed before the matter is settled.

The Japanese, operating under the name of the Asahi Fishing Company of No. 107 1-2 East First street, Los Angeles, say they paid the Cairo Brothers of San Francisco, owners of the island, a handsome sum for the exclusive rights to the fishing grounds. More than a dozen fishing camps are being run on the island by American fishermen, and the Japanese are just as determined that they shall not. As a result a clash is hourly expected. When several local Americans left here tonight for the island they were prepared for battle.

HE PAYS DEARLY.

Salvador Contreras, aged 40, well-known character of the northern part of this county, today was sentenced to thirty years in Folsom for having criminally assaulted a respected woman who has passed the four-score-year mark. The prisoner admitted his guilt and would not have an attorney appointed to defend him. He begged that sentence be imposed on him. Judge E. F. Brown waited until he had investigated the man's record and then gave him a sentence which likely will keep him locked up the remainder of his life.

Interesting Banking Statistics

Show Remarkable Tendency Among Small Depositors All Over Country.

Within the last few years, according to the most recent banking statistics reached by experts, the tendency of small depositors has followed that of men whose bank balances run into five figures, in that they deem one bank insufficient for their needs. Nowadays the man with $1000 cash on hand is very apt to have it distributed among two or three banks. This gives the depositor not only the feeling of additional safety but also furnishes him a means of measuring and comparing the actual banking service of the various institutions with which he deals. The Merchants' Bank & Trust Co., at 207-211 So. Broadway, has not earned its title as the personal service bank without deserving it. STEEL DELIVERIES DATE.

Construction of Federal Building in San Diego Is Delayed in Consequence—Stone Also Behind.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 31.—The steel mills of America are so rushed that construction of San Diego's $200,000 Federal building is delayed much longer than the time originally set for the beginning.

Steel that had been promised for delivery by September 1 is now due to arrive here about September 15. This is the information given local supply men in a telegram from William H. Maxwell, the general contractor. Maxwell had intended to open headquarters here tomorrow. However, because he is unable to have the steel delivered and because he has large building contracts elsewhere he does not intend to return here before September 15.

Shipments of stone are also behind. It is expected this class of material can be delivered by the time the steel arrives.

MISUSE RED CROSS.

In Ventura an Automobilist Who Has Fake Emblem on His Car Is Fined for Speeding.

VENTURA, Aug. 31.—Manuel Ramirez, convicted of manslaughter yesterday for the killing of a man in Oxford a few weeks ago, is to receive sentence tomorrow. During the whole trial there was no evidence whatever offered as to a motive for the killing, but it is stated the unwritten story might have been made an effective part of the defense had Ramirez desired to protect himself in this way.

The Redmen of this city held one of the most successful dances in the history of this place last night at the Armory Hall, for the benefit of the Rincon road fund. Over $150 was realized. A feature was the introduction of the old-time square dances, conducted by two Moor Park men, Sheldon and James Barrett, who called and fiddled and sang the figures at the same time.

CARELESS CHECKER CHECKED.

J. Carrier of Orange Visits Newport Beach and Falls into the Tolls of the Law.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.] NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 31.—Because he failed to examine a blank check closely, J. Carrier of Orange was face to face with a felony charge yesterday.

Carrier bought a motorcycle from Henry Westlake for $101. Carrier said he did not have his check-book against the Bank of Orange with him. He was furnished with a blank on the First National Bank of Orange, and glancing at it Carrier took it for the Bank of Orange. He filled it out and gave it to Westlake. It came back from the bank marked "no account."

A warrant was issued, and Carrier, much bewildered, was arrested. Not until he saw the check in the City Recorder's office could Carrier explain the reason for his arrest.

The case against him was immediately dismissed, and he wrote out a new check, this time careful to see that it was on the Bank of Orange.

Redlands Lad Meets Mishap in Pushmobile Which Crashes Against Post—Vandalism Out Valuable Rug.

REDLANDS, Aug. 31.—Reginald Inwood, the 9-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Inwood, was painfully injured Tuesday night when his pushmobile broke. While coasting down the sidewalk the machine was smashed against a post and broke in two in the center. The boy was thrown backwards and a jagged end of the board cut a deep gash in his neck.

Vandals entered the Henry Fisher home on Highland avenue last night shortly after midnight and cut a large strip from a valuable rug in the drawing-room, and had doubled back the rug in both the library and dining-room preparatory to cutting them when the maid heard them and arose. Frightened, they rushed to the front.

Police officers were called and made a thorough search in and around the premises but no one could be found. On certain days bass will strike nearly anything, while on other days the most alluring bait will not tempt them. A day or two later he has another cigar butt into the water, and the same fish rose to it and nibbled. After this had happened a decision, Flanagan was forced to the conclusion that it was not mere chance, but a genuine taste for tobacco. Some times shreds of the cigar, much as it is with deer and goats. They are the water half an hour or so after the fish has grabbed them, thus showing that the intelligent bass really is to smoke the cigar, but being harassed by certain natural discharges, contented itself by merely chewing the weed.

Some of the summer boarders, and observing Flanagan's bass came to the conclusion that a natural taste for tobacco might be inborn with fish, and other research along the same line, when put into a tub on shore, and the small portions of navy, chewing tobacco, became very noticeable, showing every sign of nausea, and mewing pitifully. The bass's favorite feeding ground is near a powerhouse. Always, when Flanagan goes to the powerhouse, he finds the cigar he happens to be smoking away, so that there is no doubt.

NEW YORKER CLAIMS A BLACK BASS THAT EATS CIGAR STUBS THROWN INTO THE WATER.

[Chicago Inter Ocean.] John J. Flanagan, manager at Bartlett's N. Y. has as one of his proteges a black bass which uses tobacco. The fish, being an intelligent one, does not smoke cigarettes. But it chews. Flanagan got acquainted with the habits of the bass about a month ago. The bass's favorite feeding ground is near a powerhouse. Always, when Flanagan goes to the powerhouse, he finds the cigar he happens to be smoking away, so that there is no doubt.

How to Tell if Your Hair is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent. of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to become dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our stores, The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Ore.

he would release the defendants upon their own recognizance. The city ordinance under which the complaints were issued was aimed at the distribution of cards and booklets which generally contained some law of advertising in one portion and indecent pictures and reading matter in another. It was also drawn to prohibit the exhibition of improper posters, chromos and similar cards, but by a long stretch of the prosecutor's imagination he construed the word "paper" in the ordinance to mean "newspaper" despite the fact that in all other references in the codes and statutes a newspaper is designated either as such or as a "publication." The word "paper" in the ordinance refers to the material on which the matter is printed.

Prosecutor Eddie attempted to have the defendants enter their pleas yesterday with the understanding that they could be withdrawn later if so desired but Attorney Hunsaker was not to be taken in by the suggestion and the pleas were not entered until after the hearing on the demurrer.

Proceeding occupied but about ten minutes of the court's time.

FINDS TEMPER COSTLY.

Man Who Objects to Abrupt Ending of Joy Ride Is Fined for Disturbing the Peace.

It cost H. B. Barnham $20 for losing his temper when Speed Officer Anderson interrupted a joy ride he was having with G. M. Rea. Anderson halted them on Washington boulevard. "Get down," said the officer. "You're under arrest."

"Get out," shouted Barnham. "Say, you don't know who I am."

According to Anderson, he said he didn't care if Barnham was the man who threw the salt in the ocean. Justice Summerfield looked the defendant over after the testimony of Anderson, and said:

"For disturbing the peace, $20. Barnham. Rea, a like amount. Other offenders paid heavier fines, as follows: R. P. Walker, $25; Thomas Gehart, $30; L. H. Platt, $30. Four got off with suspended sentences."

TIES NECKTIE TOO TIGHT.

Two Alleged Attempts to Commit Suicide in Jail Avail a Prisoner Nothing, and He is Arraigned.

Despite the fact that he twice acted as if he were trying to make away with himself, Raymond Jung, about 23 years old, was arraigned in Police Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of having obtained money under false pretenses.

Jung was found early yesterday morning in his cell in the City Jail slowly choking to death. A necktie was tied tightly about his neck. It was taken from him and he was found a few minutes later trying to ram his head against the bars of his cell.

Jung is said to have represented to A. Alva, living on Sotela street, that he had the authority to rent certain houses on the street. He is then said to have taken $10 from Alva and to have told him to move into any of the houses which he wished to live in.

Alva later learned that Jung had no authority to rent the houses, and he complained to the police.

Detectives Rico and Talamantes arrested Jung and placed him in the City Jail to await a hearing. He was while he was alone Wednesday night that he made the supposed attempts to end his life. The police believe Jung was shamming.

RELEASER'S DISCHARGE STANDS.

After listening for three hours yesterday to the defense of Roscoe Relecher, Police Commissioner Hunsaker, recently discharged by the Chief of Police on charges of having attempted to embrace two women living on North Main street, Mayor Alexander yesterday sustained the ruling of the Chief.

Relecher's defense was that he had been released from the City Jail on his own recognizance, and that he was not under any obligation to remain in the City Jail.

COURT ALLOWS BOY TO BECOME A FISHERMAN.

Youth Alleged to Have Robbed Man Tells Judge He Took Friend's Money for Safe Keeping Until He Sobered—Leaves Home Rather Than Be a Grocer.

"You cannot drive a square peg in a round hole, neither can you make a grocer out of a boy who desires to become a fisherman," was the logic with which Judge Hutton yesterday disposed of the case of Charles Andrews, 15 years old.

The boy had been in the Juvenile Court once before on a charge of having run away from home. His father, a fisherman, promised to teach him his business and was allowed to take him home. Charles worked in the store just one day and then ran away to San Diego.

The authorities in the southern city arrested him on a charge of having robbed a man of $10 and he was returned to the Juvenile Court. He explained to the court that he had found a friend in an intoxicated condition in the gutter, and that he took the money with the intention of returning it as soon as the man became sober. He said the officers arrested him almost immediately and refused to listen to his explanation.

The judge declared that he was for several years a surveyor and that he knew it was a custom among them to take a man's money when he became unable to care for himself. He said he did not have any friends who became inebriated but that if he did he believed that he would have done exactly as the boy had done under the circumstances.

Charles explained that he became a fisherman and that he was having great luck catching crabs when the officers interrupted with his occupation and his pleasure.

The court concluded that the best thing to do for the boy was to let him be a fisherman. He will remain in the Detention Home until a probation officer, under order of the court, shall find a place for him on the briny deep, with headquarters at San Pedro.

KNOTTY QUESTION.

DEEP THOUGHTS OF COURT.

An endeavor of the City Attorney to take a short cut in the proceedings on Sunset boulevard, after it was discovered that there was a technical flaw in the original action, is causing Judge Finlayson some deep thought.

The city caused an assessment district to be created and was proceeding with the necessary legal acts in order to prepare for the improvement of the boulevard when an injunction suit was brought.

Constantine D. Simpson, L. Hellman, Schwartz Land, Building and Investment Company, H. A. Unruh, the Baldwin heirs, the Bryson estate and others were the plaintiffs. The Board of Public Works was named as defendant.

Judge Finlayson found that there had been an error in the manner of filing a diagram of the assessment district with the Superintendent of Streets and issued an injunction preventing the city from proceeding with the condemnation proceedings.

The municipal attorneys yesterday called to the attention of the court the fact that the judgment which had been prepared by the plaintiff attorneys and had been signed by the city, was in violation of the acts of the city were invalid.

The city asked to have the judgment modified so as to show that the only invalid act was that of making a mistake in filing a diagram.

If the municipal attorneys succeed in their motion to take back the condemnation proceedings at the point where they are required to file the plat and will seek to complete the condemnation proceedings.

The judge is puzzling over the proposition whether he has the authority at this time to change the judgment which he has rendered.

PROBATION ENDS. SENT TO PENITENTIARY.

Another failure of probation was registered yesterday when Cecil Anderson, 23 years old, was deprived of his conditional freedom by Judge McCormick and sent to the penitentiary for three years.

The young and pretty wife of the defendant was so moved with grief when she found that her husband must do servitude to expiate his offenses that it was necessary to escort her away.

Anderson embarrassed jewelry valued at $450 from the Home Payment Jewelry Company, by whom he was employed, on May 27 last. He was found guilty in June. On his plea that he had never been in trouble before and that he desired to have a chance to care for his wife and two children, he was put on probation.

A month later he had a note on the Walter E. Smith grocery for a forty-pound box of butter. He was discovered in the act of leaving it and was arrested. He was formally charged with having violated the conditions of his parole. It was later ascertained that he was a deserter from the navy.

BIG OIL DEAL
AGAIN HELD UP.

Hammon Asks Clients for an Extension of Time.

Coalinga Oil Properties Are Included in Sale.

General News of Interest
from Oil Fields.

Word comes from Coalinga to the effect that another postponement has been requested by W. F. Hammon and associates in the purchase of several properties in that field for an English syndicate. The original sales contract called for the payment of one-half the purchase price on July 15, but owing to disturbed business conditions in England at that time and since it was found that the money could not be raised to handle a deal of such magnitude.

The directors of the Republic, the Empire, the De Luxe and the Silver Tip have already agreed to a postponement of the first payment till the first of November, and it is understood that the other companies, including the Amy and Lucille, will make the same extension. Mr. Hammon has already gone to considerable expense, and is paying the cost of the development of the Coalinga syndicate on section 21, 18-18. The directors of all the companies are anxious to sell their properties and hope for a consummation of the big deal on November 1. Hammon is now in New York in connection with the deal.

The festivities incident to the coronation of King George and the labor troubles that disturbed England immediately following are given as causes for the inability to carry the Coalinga deal along. Also there was a war scare of some proportions that had its effect on business. It is more than probable, however, that the unrest among the English stockholders of the Kern River Oilfield, Ltd., had something to do in calling a halt to the march of progress.

After the Keith-Mack properties were taken over by the English corporation the capitalization was generously increased, and as a result the percentage of dividends dwindled alarmingly. This was no fault of the California property, but was due to the desire of the English promoters to make a big show at the expense of their own shareholders. English financial newspapers have helped along the agitation by insisting upon a complete investigation, and the result is a "sour" feeling among the California stockholders.

Hammon is a well-known mining man and has the confidence of Californians with whom he is

GETS INTO OIL SAND.

IN VALLECITOS FIELD.
Press dispatches state that a strike of light gravity oil has just been made in the well of the Range Sixteen Oil Company in the Vallecitos field. It is said that a fine oil sand was encountered at a depth of 1815 feet, and that the oil tests 33 gravity.

Three young men, Ralph B. Hodgson, E. E. Potter and H. J. Heffron, about one year ago secured a lease on 240 acres of the Vallecitos land and turned over to Boston capitalists 220 acres of their tract. These men organized the Range Sixteen company. Ralph Arnold, geologist, is also interested in the deal. The strike has caused quite a little excitement.

FULLERTON OIL FIELD.

ACTIVE DEVELOPMENT.
Special Correspondence of The Times.]

FULLERTON, Aug. 30.—While no startling developments are reported today in the Fullerton oil fields, the reports from the various sections indicate the steady prosecution of operations along a well-defined plan of campaign, which will open up new areas and prove thousands of acres, which six months ago were not even under lease.

Within the next thirty days the standard well will have five drilling wells in the Fullerton field. The company has made splendid progress on the 2000-foot well, which is down about 1800 feet. The Leffingwell is down nearly 1000 feet. A rig will be started on the Croyle land lease in the northern part of the city this week. Material for the camp and a shipment of machinery and twenty-inch pipe is on the ground for active work here. The rig on the Toler lease is completed and the drilling rig is going up on the Williams ranch, about two miles north of the city, in La Habra Valley.

The pipe line division of the Standard has closed up its work in this field for the present, and has transferred its forces to El Segundo, where drilling is being done for three big tanks. In this field the division has built three 25,000-barrel tanks and half thirty miles of pipe line. The third tank will not be undertaken until the fall. O. O. Allen, superintendent of the pipe line division, will keep his headquarters here. In some canyon operations are under way, and twelve new wells are being drilled there, on the properties of the Fullerton company, the Brea Oil Company, the Delaware Oil Company and other operators in that section. All are going after the oil found in the Manges section. One well of the Fullerton company is producing 1500 barrels a day.

The Amundson company is making a big show on its four drilling wells. The deepest is down about 1800 feet. The Leffingwell is down about 1000 feet. The Croyle well is down about 1000 feet. The Toler well is down about 1000 feet. The Williams well is down about 1000 feet. The Hodgson well is down about 1000 feet. The Potter well is down about 1000 feet. The Heffron well is down about 1000 feet. The Arnold well is down about 1000 feet. The Hodgson well is down about 1000 feet. The Potter well is down about 1000 feet. The Heffron well is down about 1000 feet. The Arnold well is down about 1000 feet.

Player Piano Bargains

Ten Dollars and up per month will put a Player Piano in your home. If you've been wanting a high grade Player Piano, this is your opportunity to secure it at a whole lot less than value. We have a considerable assortment of new or used Players that will be disposed of at bargain prices. Just study these offerings.

New $750 Kurtzmann $550

This 33-note Kurtzmann Player Piano is in Mahogany case. The very latest model Player, but a style that we are discontinuing.

New $850 Farrand-Cecilian $650

Flemish Oak Farrand-Cecilian Player Piano, with metal action. Combination tracker board, plays both 65 and 88-note music. Was especially made to order, but coloring was a trifle too dark for the customer, to whom we sold another instrument. This Player has never been used.

New $750 Laffargue $550

A fine 88-note Laffargue Player Piano in Mahogany case—a rare bargain.

Used $750 Davenport & Tracey $350

This Player is slightly used, but in excellent condition. By trying it, you'll see what a bargain it is at $350.

Used $700 Aeolian $350

55-note Aeolian Player Piano, one of the biggest bargains on our floors.

Free Music

Remember, we give a generous supply of free music when you purchase a Player. You also have the privilege of our great Music Library. Can exchange your music as often as you wish without charge.

AT WHEEL OF TRUCK, GOES THROUGH BRIDGE.

Five-Ton Commercial Truck Through Bridge
On Colton avenue yesterday, Newton Nye, who was driving the Alco, barely escaped death beneath the heavy timbers of the shattered structure.

WHILE Newton Nye was driving an Alco truck across the Colton-avenue bridge, which spans the Santa Ana River, between Colton and Riverside, the big commercial car crashed through the woodwork of the bridge and Nye narrowly escaped with his hand gripping the emergency, Nye dropped with the heavily-loaded car down through the timbers and the load of pipe rolled into the stream. With the truck in the river and Nye's head above water, Nye faced a peculiar problem. He jumped from his seat and helped the men who Starting his motor, Nye drove the machine out of the sand on its own power. The car reached the road once more, was reloaded with the pipe, which was being hauled for the Southern California Gas Company. This pipe will be delivered today by the same truck that dropped through the bridge and Nye has asked to drive the machine.

RAILROAD EVENT POSTPONED.

Celebration for Porterville-Northeastern to be on September Ninth. Special Rates Announced.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]
PORTERVILLE, Aug. 31.—Because the Southern Pacific Railroad was not able to grant special rates on that date, the Porterville-Northeastern Railroad celebration, which was to have been held on the upper Tule River, September 6, has been postponed to September 9.

In view of the postponement the railroad officials have agreed to devote their entire contract advertising space in country newspapers throughout this district to the celebration and will also grant special rates from Fresno on the north to Bakersfield on the south, for the occasion.

CHARGES POLUTION.

A warrant has been sworn out against A. Handorf, a dairyman living several miles north of the reservoir above Griffith Park, charging him with polluting the waters of the Los Angeles River which flows into the water mains of the city at the intake. Handorf has an irrigation ditch which runs through the corral in which he keeps his cows, and from there carrying the refuse from the corral into the river. The warrant was sworn out by A. Moore of the Water Department.

GOING, GONE!
 A New York has gone a little further in the direction of unsightly advertising rival, Pomona, Cal. At Pomona it recently charged that a number of women of the best social values had been at least one billboard and washed others. Quite without the help of any Comstock, ethical New Yorkers succeeded in preventing expressions from using their wagons for the
 of moving advertisements and it is

 It is strange how genius runs to seed

ANDREW NEWSPAPERS.
 The announcement at Tokio yesterday that the new Japanese Cabinet will give the newspapers of that kingdom new material for the season's gossip. Journalism in Japan is suffering from many viewpoints and not the least of these is the wide freedom granted the press. Japan has 300 daily newspapers. Eight of these are printed in English, which are in Tokio. One of these is the "Asahi," edited and published by Japanese.
 In fact it is the only one of the eight daily newspapers under a native management, although the Japan Mail, published at Yokohama by Capt. Brinkley of the British navy, is decidedly pro-Japanese. The other newspapers never hesitate to criticize the Japanese government and some of them are bitterly unfriendly. It is said that the Japan Herald, published at Kobe by Robert Young, a British subject, is one of the best newspapers in the kingdom and its attitude towards the Japanese government is nearly as peppery. Perhaps the most curious of Japan's journalism is a little paper published in Japanese and called the

WHAT WILL THE WOMEN DO?
 The news from Spokane is gloomy news. It gives The Times a feeling of sadness.
 "That is somewhat akin to pain,
 But resembles sorrow only,
 As the mist resembles the rain."
 Woman suffrage has been adopted in the State of Washington. As a necessary result the names of women appear on the jury list. But at Spokane two ladies who were drawn declined to serve. They offered no excuses, such as mere men present, of ill-health or business entanglements. They simply averred that they did not like the job and would absolutely decline to serve. A male citizen who assumed a similar defiant
 attitude would be committed for contempt of court and air his decline in the County Jail. But a woman is privileged. She "has a right" to the suffrage equally with a man.
 But when it comes to performing the duties which accompany the right—why, that is different.

Where will this recalcitrance stop? Will the women voters of Washington refuse to perform militia duty? Will they refuse to shoulder muskets and obey the order of "close up?" Will they decline to serve on a posse comitatus? Will they fail to man the breaks of a fire engine in country towns where there is no steam engine? Will they accept election as Sheriffs and then shrink
 from adjusting the noose or fail to fire on the mob. Shall our dear ones have the privilege and dodge the duties of citizenship?
 Will they even go so far as to refuse to pay for the ice cream half of the time? Where are we at?

AN OUTRAGEOUS DEMAND.
 One of the demands of the Federation of Labor on the Southern Pacific road is that no employee of the company, and no
 union laborer who seeks to become an employee, shall be required to submit to a physical examination, or an examination of his personal record. The public as well as the railroad company are interested in having this outrageous demand of the federation eliminated in any readjustment of the present controversy. If a locomotive engineer becomes color blind, as has happened,
 so that he cannot distinguish between a red,
 a green and a white light, the company
 would have no right to discharge him, or to inquire into the condition of his eyesight,
 although the direct result of his color blindness and inability to distinguish the red of a danger signal from the green light of a different signal, might be to cause a collision
 that would make a holocaust of human life,
 and subject the company to hundreds of thousands of dollars in damages.
 Or if the company should have reason to believe that a conductor of a passenger train had served a term in the penitentiary of another State under a different name, for robbery, it could not investigate his "personal record," although his retention in its employment might involve the company in pecuniary loss, because of his robbery of passengers, or assistance given by him to train wreckers.

There are objections which can be made to other demands of the Federation of Labor
 which The Times may consider hereafter, but in the interests of the public. Why does the federation not make a clean sweep and demand that the ownership and control of the railroad be turned over to it?

DANGER SIGNAL.
 The initiative would give the people of the State the power to vote into the statutes
 a law which the Legislature refused or neglected to pass. The referendum would give the people of the State the power to vote out of the statutes a law which the Legislature refused or neglected to repeal.
 The recall would give to the people of the State the right—by recalling judges—to reverse any judgment that the Supreme Court might give declaring an initiative enactment or a referendum repeal unconstitutional.

The inherent vice of the initiative, the referendum and the recall, is that they close the doors of the legislative chambers and of the Supreme Court, and place the power to make and construe laws in the hands of voters who, however honest or however intelligent they may be, have not the time,
 the experience or the knowledge required for making and construing laws. The makers of an initiative law, unlike the makers of a law in the legislative chamber,
 would escape responsibility and avoid criticism for their action, for nobody would know they voted.

If the initiative and the referendum are placed in the Constitution the principle which they embody would be applicable to municipalities and city ordinances as well as State laws might be enacted by means of a popular election.

Suppose an ordinance should be submitted to the people of Los Angeles providing for the purchase by the city of all the electric trolley lines at the market price of their stock and bonds, and the issuance of the bonds of the city in payment. Suppose that such ordinance should provide for the city running the roads, and should limit fares to 3 cents anywhere within or without the city limits, with transfers ad libitum, and with cars enough to give everybody a seat.
 The deficit, if there should be a deficit, as there doubtless would be, to be met out of the city treasury.

Would not such an initiative ordinance be adopted without consideration and without care as to what might be the financial result to the city? More than one-half of the voters are non-taxpayers, and the bulk of the taxable property of Los Angeles is owned by less than a moiety of the other half. A 3-cent fare with a chance to stand up as long as the steps, would move the most honest and intelligent voter to vote for such an ordinance as is suggested, although its adoption might hang like a millstone around the necks of the owners of Los Angeles real estate.

Not only electric roads, but electric light
 and power plants, and gas factories and telephone lines, might, by an initiative ordinance, be placed in the ownership of the city, and the public be accommodated with these utilities at half the present cost. The taxation necessary to make good the deficit might increase the assessment levy so as to drive movable property and movable people out of Los Angeles, and population would read the triumph of its initiative, referendum and recall fads in vacant buildings.

INSURANCE AGAINST DIVORCE.

We have insurance against most of the evils to which flesh is heir: against fire, pestilence and famine, against battle and murder and sudden death. That is, we call it insurance. Of course we are not insured in the literal sense of the word against any of these calamities. We simply pay so much a year into the coffers of a reputable company to prevent wives or families or friends
 from suffering the consequences of our own follies or failures or misfortunes.
 Insurance is altruism in a practical form,
 possibly a more workable demonstration of Christianity than we can discover in a church service. It is making the stranger do for our friends what we are unable to do for ourselves. Property will still be destroyed by fire, countries will still be ravaged by disease, trains and ships and human lives will still be wrecked indiscriminately;
 we simply make provision to lessen the shock of these disasters to the rest of the community. So in time we may even begin to talk of lucky accidents; like the man who was smashed up in a train wreck, and who,
 when the doctors told him he was beyond hope, replied triumphantly, "I always was a lucky fellow. I insured my life for $20,000
 only three weeks ago."

But in Germany they seem to have taken
 a retrograde step in this altruistic business;
 a company has been formed in Munich to insure married couples against divorce. Such insurance no more makes happy marriages than life insurance wards off death. In fact, the Munich scheme tends to encourage rather than to discourage divorce, by keeping the suggestion of it ever in the minds of the insured and also by making its accomplishment easier.
 According to this business arrangement a young married couple makes small weekly payments into the company, and the company in return will take all risks, pay all expenses, costs and damages, should their marriage ever finish up in the divorce court.
 The meanest part of the scheme is, that the young husband and wife are approached secretly and confidentially by different agents of the company, so that they are insured one against the other without being aware of the fact.

A marriage insurance company would, we take it, be much more in keeping with the trend of modern thought. Thus a newlymarried couple might be induced to pay in a yearly premium to mature, say at the end of twenty or twenty-five years, if the pair insured have escaped the divorce court for that period of time. Here the incentive would be all in favor of the home and against the dissolution of the marriage tie.
 A big bonus as the reward of constancy is surely preferable to alimony through the courts. Such a company started in America by good, responsible men, would do more good and be a greater financial success than the Divorce Insurance Company started in the city of Munich.

FOREST RESERVE ABUSES.

The "National Forests" of the United States, not including Alaska, extend—according to the last official reports—over an area of 155,522,020 acres, which is about the size of the empire of Austria. Most of this domain lies west of the Rocky Mountains.
 One-third of this land is as destitute of trees
 as an alkali flat, and not more than one-third contains merchantable timber. Voltaire said of the Holy Roman Empire that it was not an empire, that it contained but few Romans, and was not in the least holy.
 So a large portion of the national forest reserves are treeless wastes, capable with irrigation of being changed into verdant
 meadows and opulent fields and orchards.

The Interior Department has jurisdiction over the management and disposal of the public lands. But this function it has surrendered largely to the Department of Agriculture, and that department has surrendered its powers—so far as forest lands are concerned—to the Forest Reserve. This was accomplished years ago by a treaty between the two departments; the first four articles

given by the General Land Office to the Forest Service of a claimant's intention to make final proof.

"Article III. The refusal by the General Land Office to issue final certificate or allow final entry for any land claim within the forest reserve, against which a forest officer has protested, until full hearing before the local land officers."

"Article IV. The requirement of such stipulation and bond as the Forester may demand to protect forest reserve interests before the approval of any rights of way within the 'forest reserves.'"

The Forester in his reserve is a greater despot than any sultan or czar. His findings of facts and his findings of lies are unassailable. If a sacrilegious homesteader or a godless prospector ventures within the lines of the reserve, the Forester throws around that reserve the awful circle of his command of exclusion, and on the head of the invader he launches the Pinchotian curses.
 The forest reserve power has been unscrupulously used by government officials.
 The shores of Alaskan harbors have been reserved as forest lands, in order to advance
 the value of wharf sites owned by friends of the late Chief Forester, and Alaskan coal fields, the surface of which was never shadowed by tree or shrub, have been withheld from location in order to increase the value of coal lands in the Alleghenies owned by Pinchot's friends.

Driven to bay by their failure to intimidate and beguile President Taft into a policy
 of permanently looking up the coal lands,
 and timber lands, and oil lands of the Pacific, from location by prospectors, and thereby securing a monopoly of coal, of lumber and of oil production to the companies which own patented lands, the Pinchotian shouters
 now advocate the leasing of such lands, expecting that leases would be made on such terms as would preclude capitalists
 from investing in development work.

Experience has demonstrated that however admirable Uncle Sam may be in other respects, he is worse as a landlord than any Irish absentee owner of acres in Erin.
 The result to those citizens who should apply to Forest Reserve officials for a lease of coal lands, or mineral lands, or waterpower rights, may be premised by recurrence to a few rulings made by or under the auspices of the Pinchot syndicate.

In 1906 a number of men held eleven mining claims in Colorado. These claims were located and partly developed before the ground was included in a forest reserve. On March 23, 1908, the owners were notified that a forest officer had filed charges against the validity of their claim, alleging that a sufficient amount of money had not been spent in development work and that the claims were not mineral in character. On the hearing it was proved that $15,000 had been expended on the claims instead of the $5500 required by law, and their mineral character was beyond dispute. Yet it cost the mining men a good deal of money to fight the Pinchot gangs.

UNCLE WALT

The swatting season soon will close, and we'll enjoy well earned repose. I look around with tearful eyes, upon my stock of swatted flies, and feel my toll was labor lost;
 the flies aren't worth half what they cost.
 A while I murmur and repine, and then my eyes begin to shine, and happiness pervades
 my breast. I say: "I surely did my best!
 I did my task with willing hand, and swatted
 flies to beat the band, and though my dead
 when in a pile, makes more accomplished swattists smile, I smote the flies that I could reach, and Conscience tells me I'm a peach."
 To do your best—there honor lies! At sawing wood or swatting flies, at writing poems or raising greens, or making coffee out of beans—your soul will know the sweetest rest, if you will always do your best! We feel discouraged when we view the windrow
 when the day is through; we saw the other mowers pass; their arms were strong, they cut more grass; they greeted us with

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The University of Wisconsin having added
 athletics to its curriculum and prepared to create bachelors of athletics, now proposes to teach women how to spend money, says
 the Indianapolis News. A cold-blooded professor at the Wisconsin institution has figured it out and he finds that this nation spends $10,000,000,000 for food, shelter and clothing every year, and that $9,000,000,000 of that is spent by women. In short, they hold man's pocketbook and he is in luck
 if he gets a quarter or 50 cents a week for smoking tobacco and haircuts. The question that arises is whether women disburse wisely, and the astonishing but still emphatic declaration comes from this sea of intellectual research that woman does not really know what money is—that is, she does not realize its true value. The verdict is that from Penobscot to San Diego they do not get the $50 worth of money, or anything near it. The chair of spending money is, therefore, for training in the art of not spending money foolishly—not taking in, as it were, any domestic wooden nickels. When one has gone through a course to the end that she may be able to take 100 cents and a lot of commodities entering into the household and make them balance
 just to the mill in true values, the university will probably confer the degree of bachelor (or spinster) of economy. The whole scheme, as briefly outlined, seems to be a glorified domestic science course. The plan is to train a $12 a week wife so that she will not forget a 500 words of waste money, or
 be able to make a judicious selection of her husband's ties to the end that he will not chuck them down the drain and hold out a quarter
 from his salary the next week to buy another. We think the plan a very good one,
 but hardly see the justice of sex limitation.

C. C. Starr, superintendent of the city schools of Topeka, Kan., has recommended
 the establishment of a trade school, and that the co-operative or half-time plan be adopted which gives the student the actual practical experience in the industrial or other establishment and the work in school necessary to giving him a well-rounded but practical education. It is evident, he says,
 "that there is a missing link between the public schools and the shop that should, if possible, be filled in some way. Since the public school is to prepare for life, it cannot turn aside from its duty to the eight hours of life devoted daily to the use of head and hand in the shops. Any other plan is to prepare only for a part of life and not all of it. It is not desirable that the general training of the school should be supplanted by vocational training. On the contrary, it properly is supplemental to such training. To point all pupils toward mechanical trades would be as absurd as the opposite extreme, too common still, of pointing all pupils toward an exclusively academic training."
 "Industrial education means the complete and appropriate education of the industrial worker. While it involves actual practices in the processes employed in trades or groups of industries, it also must recognize the need of vocational intelligence. Superintendent Brooks of Boston aptly states that cultural education in some way. Since the goal of education is that it is not good for anything in particular, while broadly conceived industrial education is not only good, but it is good for something in particular."

SOUTH AMERICAN MERGER.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

In view of the fact that Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia are negotiating a merger amongst themselves so as to become a single and stronger power, it is interesting to note how we stand com-mercially with each of the five countries—
 that is, our yearly trade with them both ways.

Reference to the records of the Bureau of Statistics at Washington gives that trade
 for 1911 fiscal year as:

	Exports	Imports
Peru	$ 5,597,123	$ 9,314,030
Colombia	4,905,934	8,994,460
Venezuela	3,791,620	7,635,256
Ecuador	2,238,539	3,828,805
Bolivia	891,624	827
Totals	$17,424,840	$29,573,878

Total trade therewith in 1911 fiscal year, $46,997,718.

With Colombia there has been a steady increase in both exports and imports in the past three fiscal years, as witness the figures:

Fiscal Years.	Exports	Imports
1909	$3,479,070	$7,010,304
1910	3,979,856	7,485,141
1911	4,905,934	8,994,460
Increase in two years	1,426,786	1,984,156

The Venezuelan record is:

	Exports	Imports
1909	$2,668,211	$3,813,609
1910	2,787,210	6,701,882
1911	3,791,620	7,635,256
Increase in two years	1,128,409	3,821,477

And for Peru:

	Exports	Imports
1909	$4,557,564	$3,866,544
1910	4,548,053	7,621,497
1911	5,597,123	9,314,030
Increase in two years	1,039,569	3,827,486

And for Ecuador:

	Exports	Imports
1909	$1,549,687	$2,780,372
1910	2,216,961	2,869,714
1911	2,238,539	3,828,805
Increase in two years	688,852	1,048,433

SCENE WAS DISGRACEFUL

Knockout Brown Fight May Cost Club License.

Protests Come to the Police Against Managers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Steps that may lead to the revoking of the license of the Madison Square Athletic Club, under whose auspices the fight was held last night between Matt Wells and "Knockout" Brown, were taken today by the Commissioner Johnson. Patrick Powers, one of the fight managers, was served with notice that in permitting 300 persons or more to stand in the arena during the bout, he had violated a provision of the New York City charter.

Emphatic protests against the management of the big Wells-Brown fight here last night poured in today on police, newspapers, reform organizations and the State officials charged with supervision of boxing clubs. The ten-round battle was the first big fight staged under the new Tammany law legalizing boxing, and it attracted a crowd unprecedented in New York fight history.

Police reserves from eleven precincts had to be called out in an effort to restrain the throng, which mobbed the streets around Madison Square Garden. With drawn night sticks, the bluecoats repeatedly charged the mob in riot formation, and finally resorted to the expedient of closing up several streets.

The trouble began early in the evening with a series of protests against the manner in which the price of tickets to the bout was being raised. Holders of $1 tickets calling for admission found signs stating them in the face, "Standing room $5," and the price of tickets continued to soar as the evening advanced. It was charged also that the speculators had a corner on the best seats.

Nearly 28,000 persons finally gained admission to the big amphitheater, but there was still a mob of at least equal size clamoring and fighting in the streets outside. "Hooliganism" was rampant, and the 200 or 300 policemen—most of them in no gentle temper after being roused from bed by the reserve call—were unable to get the situation in hand until nearly midnight. Police Inspector McCloskey blamed the new boxing law, which provides that the police may not enter any portion of a building where a fight is being held, for most of the trouble. He said:

"The whole scene was disgraceful. It was the old days and the old game over again. The hands of the police are tied."

The receipts of the fight were not made public by the promoters. Experts estimated the proceeds at anywhere from $30,000 to $50,000, and declared that the profits would exceed those of any fight held since the Jeffries-Johnson battle at Reno.

DODD BALL ABOLISHED.
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The Windy City Bowling League abolished the "Dodd" ball at its meeting last night. Efforts have been made ever since the close of last season to secure legislation unfavorable to the "Dodd" ball, but no action was taken by the American Bowling Congress. The National Bowling Association, which controls the game in the East, put a ban on the ball last spring.

The "Dodd" ball is made by taking two halves of different balls and gluing them together, the heavier half enabling the sphere to hook and sweeping hook and clearing up more pins than an ordinary ball would knock down.

SOUTH COAST YACHTS OFF FOR ANNUAL STAG CRUISE.
THE officers of the South Coast Yacht Club are making the final preparations for the club's annual stag cruise, which starts tomorrow. The objective point of the cruise is the Isthmus of Catalina Island, where the yachtsmen will go into camp for three days.

The stag cruise is the club's biggest annual affair, and, as the name implies, the ladies are strictly taboo. Yachtsmen would rather miss Christmas dinner than the cruise, and there will be, indeed, few of the members of the club's fleet which will not be found at the Isthmus next Sunday morning.

In order to keep the yachtsmen from having nervous prostration over trying to think up new stunts, the club adopted a set of customs, and these are used each year. One of these is an early morning bath for everybody in the fleet. The water is cold at 8 a. m., but everyone rushes in, past experiences having shown that the bath is a much lesser evil than the involuntary immersion which is sure to follow any lagging or attempt to participate in a morning snooze.

AUTO NUMBER LAW DECLARED INVALID.

[A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The local requirement that automobiles be numbered on both ends was declared invalid today by Police Judge Deasey, who held that it was in conflict with the State law on the subject, which was made explicit so that the numbering would be uniform in all the counties. The suit to test the ordinance was brought by Percy Walker of Oakland, president of the State Automobile Owners' Association.

PRACTICING FOR GOLF TOURNEY.

LOS ANGELES PLAYERS FULL OF CONFIDENCE.

Norman Macbeth, the Southern California Champion, Changed His Plans and Entered After All—In a Practice Match He Walloped the Northern California Stars.

BY WILLIAM FREDERICKSON.

DEL MONTE (Cal.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Del Monte is overrun with golfers today and more coming by every train and many automobiles. Parties from north and south until the hotel is crowded and the links are scarce able to accommodate all who wish to play. The big tournament begins Saturday.

This morning the train brought a delegation of experts from Los Angeles. At the last moment Norman Macbeth, Southern California champion, decided to attend the meeting and is on the ground today acquainting himself with the peculiarities of the course.

With him came E. B. Tutts, N. B. Wilshire, F. H. Edwards, E. H. Armstrong, W. R. Millar, L. D. Sales and W. Frederickson.

On the same train was E. N. Wright of Annandale, runner-up to Macbeth in the Southern California championship event. Sterling C. Lane, former southern champion, also is here, representing the south and with this array of old and tried players, the south feels confident of holding its own with the cracks that have come down from the north.

The best men from San Francisco and environs are here, including Vincent Whitney, last year's champion, Dr. D. P. Fredericks, Campbell Whyte, Robin Y. Hayne, Jack Neville, Young Kales and the rest who know the course here from A to Z and are hard to beat.

Principal among the matches between northern and southern men was the game in which Norman Macbeth and E. N. Wright of Los Angeles, were pitted against Vincent Whitney and Dr. D. P. Fredericks of San Francisco. Two matches were played by this foursome, and each was won by Macbeth and Armstrong by 1 up. Neither of them had played on the course before.

On Saturday morning the first play of the tournament will begin when there will be qualifying medal play for the various events and championships at match play to follow. This is the last day of the tournament, and the entire day and the players will then be divided into flights according to their medal scores. The first six holes will qualify for the big championship.

Southern California players are on their mettle for it has been rumored that northern players have allowed for the last two southern men in a first sixteen. This, of course, has no girls.

HACKENSCHMIDT NERVOUS ON THE EVE OF THE MATCH

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As the date of the big wrestling match between Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt draws near, interest in the mat championship struggle increases.

One of the greatest crowds that ever saw a wrestling match is expected to be in attendance when the big grapplers are called to enter the ring next Monday. The advance sale to date for the big match has reached close to the $50,000 notch and the best seats are being gobbled up daily at a rapid clip.

A carnival of wrestling preliminaries to the big match is being planned. The large number of seats that have already been sold and the big crowd that is expected has made it advisable that the gates be opened at 11 o'clock in the morning of the contest. The promoters plan to start a match as soon as the crowd starts coming. Gotch and Hackenschmidt have contracted to appear on the field at 2 o'clock, and are to be ready for action at 3 o'clock.

Police regulations for the match were finished today and the official edict compelling the principals to conduct the bout along sportmanlike lines was handed to the Empire Athletic Club, which organization is conducting the match. Assistant Chief of Police Schuetler declared he would stop the match if there were any unfair tactics used by either of the contestants. There is to be no gouging of eyes, punching with elbows or fists or any of the antics said to have been used by Gotch in his last clash with Hackenschmidt.

WHAT A PERFECTLY LOVELY FRESHMAN.

BERKELEY (Cal.) Aug. 31.—Physical perfection of a type in accord with the ideals of ancient Greece is possessed by C. H. A. McKim, a freshman at the University of California, according to the assertion of Prof. W. E. Magee.

McKim is 26 years old and registers from Pomona, Cal., is five feet eight inches tall and weighs 148 pounds. In the tests held to determine the qualifications of football candidates McKim developed nearly twice the strength necessary.

Prof. Magee employs a method whereby he is enabled to determine the combined strength of back, legs, right forearm, left forearm, and dip and pull with the arms.

HOW DANNY TAMED SEALS

Long Arrived and I the Team Play.

Magnate's Unearthly Scared Kid Mohler

Players Didn't Understand Programme Wav

Danny Long, baseball manager, arrived in a robin's egg-blue car, a terrible state of wrath from San Francisco. He came for the purpose of throwing into the mutinous Seals.

He was so alarmingly angry that he overthrew the baseball like a thunder cloud and so the Seals so they couldn't play whether they were playing or hiding in a cyclone-cellar.

Kid Mohler appeared to be scared than any one else.

The kid had promised to "umpire" in a most reliable human manner out of revenge of the day before. But was in no mood to ride more belligerent than a kitten less an umpire of McGreevy's habits.

Under the terrible eye of Long, the Seals' captain, who that he could not hold the ball, threw all over the lot. He half the balls that came his way was so nervous with Danny's glowering over across the field that he was twice caught napping.

On arriving at the park, the of mutinous crews marched to the players' bench and there his stand amid the snoring.

He did not deign a word one.

He sat like a frowning old Rhuddia in a strand but terrible.

When Kid Mohler was told as he moped off of first base, time, the kid's predicament, thetic. He glanced up quickly sheepishly in the direction of the players' bench, where the Seals sat.

But Danny disdained him look. He hit his cigar with exasperation and stared straight the field at the bull sign.

Mohler slowly wiped the his uniform—slowly and painfully—much after the manner of a boy sent out to cut a switch.

Then he began a slow journey to the bench, trying to line of Danny's vision.

He warily skirted the cat's paws, but for once he did not look at the umpire. He sat close to the fence by the most distant corner of the bench as far away from Danny as possible.

If he imagined that Danny so far unbent as to notice him, he was mistaken. He realized the depth of Danny's vicious disdain. Danny no more eyed him than some wretched fly-fitting to and fro across the panse of his asure boom.

There came, however, into his an expression of firm resolve as though he would say, "I've got to manage this team."

And he did.

From that on, during the game that followed, Danny Mohler would rise with majesty and wave a white paper programme with an abrupt and fious gesture, with some minor team trying to run the bases.

His gestures, to the players a certain manly grace, yet they to be better described as imperious than as graceful.

It was the signal for some to play a rainbow inspiration that collided with his sure.

The trouble was he didn't beforehand, to the players who was going to mean when he barked and wagged the programme, as if he were a fish in full light—or thus, if by fan in a cheap cafe.

At times during the game, he rose as to a great emergency, flinging his arms up and down in a terrible meaning, bawled out "Keep agit'ra right after 'em."

The Seals lost the game, but the trouble was he didn't beforehand, to the players who was going to mean when he barked and wagged the programme, as if he were a fish in full light—or thus, if by fan in a cheap cafe.

Not a Seal in the team dared above a whisper and they were last night to go to bed in the day.

Long, the secretary, stated last night that the trouble with the Seals could be traced directly to an unusual sequence of accidents that put the best of his players on the game at critical moments.

Long stated that there was a better bunch of baseball players the Coast than the members of team.

"They have become discouraged through the injury of best players," said Long. "It taken a little of the 'zimp' out of them and I came down to see could not instill a little of the 'ing spirit' back into them."

Mohler makes two errors. It is ordinarily have not affected the game a great deal, but this afternoon it was a matter of luck that our team has been playing against.

To demonstrate how ball players look to each other for support, when I arrived in Los Angeles first question asked by the Seal players was whether I had George Weaver with me. Weaver has been one of the mainstays of the team and been sick for several weeks.

Players have been looking forward to the return of Weaver, and when showed up here without him, they felt disappointed and the season manager will tell you that bunch of disappointed players can play winning baseball."

MATTY BALDWIN WINS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—[A. P. Night Wire.] Matty Baldwin of Chelsea, Mass., won the decision from Willie Ritchie of San Francisco in a twenty-round fight here tonight. The fight was tame with the exception of the sixth round, when they mugged it fiercely. Baldwin's ring presence told against the local hero who fought gamely.

Kerns and Danzig Are the Big Jokes.

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.)
 BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 31.—(Exclusive.)—Nine straight days of little comfort there was thought that Kid Mohler's blow-up. Patterson started with a single to center, Brashear walked and the bases were filled. McDonnell stole second a moment later. Hoop drove one at Shinn, which Jimmy gathered in and pegged to the plate to catch Brashear.

KERN'S SHOWS HIMSELF.
 Then it was that Kern gave the reason to doubt his safety. As Brashear turned back toward third, McDonnell ran up from second and Shinn hit him. McDonnell alone near third, McDonnell reached up his hand and Kern promptly pegged to him, the ball rolling out into left and the two men immediately vanished.

After the game had been thus hopelessly lost, Hunt was dickered and Frank Thornton, the utility infielder, was given his first chance on the mound on the local grounds. Thornton held the visitors to one hit in the last two frames, but with a team of men behind him who could not hit he had little incentive to exert himself.

Roy Akin, third baseman of the Los Angeles team, played his last game for the Angels yesterday.

He will be released today by Manager Berry.

At his own request, too.

Akin likes to play baseball and has made good with the Angels but has an offer of a fine position with a wool firm in Texas and intends to start for the East at once.

He played third base for the Seattle team last season and Berry put in a draft for him the year before but did not get him. This spring he succeeded in trading Left Fielder Murphy for him to Seattle. Murphy went to Seattle, played ball for a time, was released and returned East, where he died more than a month ago.

INNOVATION.
 HAP WILL HIRE REGULAR COACH.

PROFESSIONAL TO BE STATIONED AT THIRD.
 Vernon Will Endanger no More Games by Having Bench Players Direct the Base Running—Will Pay Good Salary to Capable Squeeze-Play Artist.

"Next year I'm going to have something for the Vernon team that no other club in the league will have for the North on Monday.

This is nothing more or less than a professional coach to be stationed at third base and when it becomes necessary he can be put in to bat in a pinch, or can hit for a pitcher who may be taken out of the game.

"The Vernon team has lost a lot of games this year, not counting other years, just because there was not a capable coach at third base. We need such a man and I'm going to get one and pay him a good salary for the right man is worth all you pay him. Any one can coach at third base after a fashion, but the player needs a good man who understands baseball and can size up situations quickly.

"A coacher at third worth money to a club will size up the pitcher and be able to tell how far a runner can lead off third base and whether or not it is possible to steal home on the wind-up. He should also be able to guess fairly well how accurately the outfielders can throw to the plate and whether or not a runner should stop at third base or attempt to go on a hit to the outfield. He should also be able to tell whether or not his own team-mate at bat is sure enough to be able to work the squeeze play. Furthermore he should know enough about umpires to understand how far he can go in the clubhouse without being thrown off the line.

"Such a man as I want is worth money, but the Vernon team needs him, a man and we intend to have him."

BY GREY OLIVER.
 Los Angeles, 4; San Francisco, 1. Too much Halla YESTERDAY.

The fans are getting so now that they pick out some PARTICULAR reason why the poor Seals get the hapless EVERY day, and yesterday was the cause of the utter beating for the visitors. It was Lober on Tuesday, Delhi on Wednesday, and Halla on Thursday. Just sit down this morning and try and figure out what it will be TODAY.

For the Seals managed by good luck to get to second base yesterday and one was lucky enough to score. This is the entire dose if you want to gulp it down without tasting it. There were but six hits made off Halla, and ten men reached first base, six on hits, two on passes and two on fielders' choices, on which the man ahead was forced at second base. This means pitching and Halla meant the Seals did not have near that much goodness for the locals frazzled Fanning in the seven innings he stayed in the game, making nine hits off him and four runs, and three were all they needed, with Halla pitching his head off.

LOBER SHINES.
 The big sensation about the game was the appearance of the Angels' new outfielder, Lober, who played left field in place of Howard. He is a pale little blond in the featherweight class, but interrupted the ball game and swung for two triples, sent a fly to left field near the fence and fanned out once.

He scored the first run for the Angels in the first inning on his first triple and Daley's sacrifice fly, and then in the fifth with Smith and Halla leading off third base and Lober tripling to left and scored both men. He thus made three of the four Angels runs and undoubtedly won the game for Berry.

Berry bought him from the Kewanee team of the Central Association and Hen declares he cost more than $200 for the player. In fifty-two games last year for Kewanee he hit but .219, which is about what Jim Stovall did for Vernon last year in four times as many games. He reminds one of Oakes, formerly with the Angels and now with St. Louis. He stands up to the plate and swings freely at the ball.

LAUGH ON MOHLER.
 The most laughable incidents of this rather one-sided performance were the efforts of Capt. Kid Mohler of the Seals to stick to first base. He spent considerable time on the third base coaching line and every time he reached first base he would loudly warn his base runner on first to "look out for that move" of Halla's, meaning that result in a throw to first base.

This is just exactly what happened to the poor Kid himself. After warning his players about Halla's "move" he reached first base in the fourth inning and got to first. He was crazy to make a run for his team and as he fell asleep watching to see what the pitcher at the plate intended to do, Halla shot the ball to first and Dillon caught Mohler off the bag.

Again in the sixth inning, after he had reached first base, he was caught at second, he fell asleep again, thinking about that "move" of Halla's and Halla again caught him off the base with a throw to first base.

The time Halla had to run the Kid down to second and throw the ball to have Delmas make the out.

Do you have to have ANYONE tell you that the captain of a losing ball team FEELS to be caught TWICE in one game on a trick that he has been yelling his head off warning his hired men to be careful of? And HE to be the only one caught by the TRICK. My!

In the fifth for the locals after Akin had popped to Tennant, Smith hit to left and would have been forced at second on Halla's grounder to Mc Ardle had not Mohler dropped the throw to second base. And HE to be the only one caught by the TRICK.

In the seventh, Delmas started the inning with a double over third base, and then on a single infield single reached third. Mohler could not get and scored when Mohler threw the ball wildly past Tennant. Fanning voted how this inning and Miller pitched, but no more runs were made.

ROTEN CLIMATE SPOILS SPORT.

Rain of the real wet kind yesterday spoiled every baseball game scheduled in both of the major leagues. It also, for the third time, caused the postponement of the Newport tennis tournament, in which Maurice McLaughlin and Beals C. Wright are to meet, also, and again, it caused the postponement of the Harvard-Boston aviation programme, which had Squantum field as its headquarters. In fact the entire East was drenched with a thunder shower and every outdoor sport was canceled.

All Los Angeles outdoor games were held on schedule time and if you do not believe it read today's Pink.

WAGNER IMPROVING.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—(By A. P. Day Wire.)

Honus Wagner, star shortstop and batter of the Pittsburgh Nationals, is impatient over his enforced idleness, due to a disabled ankle. He hopes to round his ankle into good enough shape to return to the game within a week or ten days.

Wagner has discarded his crutches. He has been cautioned against taking early chances.

The Pirates returned today from the most disastrous eastern expedition in the history of the team as a pennant contender.

National Commission Spurns Demands of the American Association for Special Privileges—Action May Bring About Outlaw War Throughout Entire Country—Many Claims Wanted.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INNATI, Aug. 31.—Chairman of the American Association of Professional Baseball Players, Fred Chivington, made the announcement this afternoon that all demands made on the national commission by the American Association had been refused.

Chivington of the American Association had denied the demand of the American Association that the national commission should be given the right to make the full decision of the league.

Under the American Association withdrawal from the national commission and declare war on major league baseball is now up to the members of the American Association.

The national commission having denied all its demands, the American Association commission gave the American Association until September 10 to make a national agreement. At the time the commission made it clear that if the association decided to withdraw from the national commission, organized baseball will continue in the eight cities of the nation.

DEATH BLOW GIVEN.
 possibility of the American Association breaking away from the national agreement and instituting a new league has received what baseball magnates consider a death blow this morning, when President Chivington of the Eastern League arrived and issued a statement that if the association decided to withdraw from the national commission, the league did not join in the American Association in its demand.

Five thousand dollars for each player drafted from the association by the National or American League. A classification distinct from any league now in the national agreement save the Eastern League.

Only one man to be drafted from a club each season, as is now the case.

The right to take all cases or appeals direct to the national commission without interference or jurisdiction on the part of the National Association of Minor Leagues.

In return the American Association will agree to regard contracts and reservations of the other leagues and to waive the drafting rights on minor leagues now held by it, buying all players direct from major or minor leagues.

WIN IN TENTH INNING.
 (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Portland evaded up in the first, and in the tenth brought in three more, winning 4 to 1.

A single by Barry in the tenth took him to third on Hoffman's error, and brought in Koestner and Lindsay. Krueger then singled, scoring Barry. The Cubs were unable to do anything in their half of the inning. Score:

NEW PLAYER LOBER LOOKS THE GOODS.

Elmer Lober, the new player shown yesterday by the Angel team, is now in his second year in baseball and even at first glance looks to be the goods. It need not surprise anyone if he should turn out to be a star in the Coast League, for apparently he can hit, run, field and is not afraid to stand up to the plate.

He began playing real ball with the Bartlesville team in Oklahoma the first part of last season and later in the year went to the Kewanee team. From that team Berry bought him.

Mr. Wad's Seal Took Out 6000 Feet of Rope, All Right---But He Was Just Looking for a Cop!

WHY KNOCKOUT BROWN PUTS RIGHT HAND OUT.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

WHILE the defeat of Knockout Brown at the hands of Matt Wells, the English boxer, came as a surprise to many, it simply proves what a clever hard-hitting boxer can do to a slugger.

Wells carries himself in the old orthodox way of doing things in the boxing line, handed down from the old English school for years. The hard straight left hand punch to the face and the right to the body and the clean-cut right cross counters. These blows are very hard to get away from when delivered by a man who has as thorough a knowledge of them as Wells undoubtedly has. And he must be exceptionally good at it to beat a man like Freddie Welsh.

Brown stands with his right hand forward, holding his left against his body, just the opposite to the position usually used by most boxers.

There is no reason why a boxer could not be clever, holding his right hand forward as he left, if he has been properly schooled at it. But Brown, being left-handed naturally, held his right hand out, as that is the most natural position for a left-handed man to assume. He has won most of his fights by knocking his men out with his left hand.

This position is any one except a clever boxer to any confusion, and that is, perhaps, the reason that he has the better of Welsh when they meet.

Disputes also say the fans who expected to see Wells use his hand so much with Brown as he always appeared before to be pure left-handed man.

Wells proved his thorough knowledge of the game when he used his right with Brown. In boxing with a man who holds his left hand out, it would be a most dangerous thing to use the right much; but with one who holds his right hand forward, it is the only thing to do.

When he leads with his left, being left-handed, holds his left hand against his body as he can hit harder with it than position that if he held it forward, as it is his strongest arm. Vice-versa with Wells.

The question might be asked, why has not Brown as good a chance to

GOLFERS STAKE HOPES ON MRS. ELIOT AT DEL MONTE.

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

MRS. J. V. ELIOT, upon whom the South is depending for the capture of some of the women's golfing honors at Del Monte, is now on the scene of battle, reported to be practicing daily upon the greens with the calm precision for which she is noted. The tournament starts tomorrow. A party of men golfers were discussing her chances, yesterday afternoon and are unanimous in declaring her to be by far the best woman player on the coast.

They all agreed, that apart from her golf, which is equal in a general way to the men's, her greatest and most valuable asset is her calm assurance.

"She never by any chance gets rattled," said Mr. C. H. M. Tobey, who played with her over the San Gabriel links recently. "She plays with her head throughout the game, and the least incentive will inspire her to beat her own best."

In this Mr. Tobey was referring to the fact that she beat her by two strokes on the first round, when she determined to promptly that the score should be reversed in the home round. She succeeded in making it in thirty-nine and vanquishing Mr. Tobey by three strokes. She did the seventh green in three, holding an approach putt from outside the green.

In the July tournaments at the Annandale Club, Mrs. Eliot played with the men in seventy-two hole match, steadily improving her score each week. As will be remembered, she finished fourth against some of the best men golfers the club can boast.

Three years ago Mrs. Eliot was playing an ordinary woman's game—

SOCIETY WOMEN TO CARRY GOLF CLUBS FOR CADDIES.

THE first caddies' tournament ever held on this coast will take place at the San Gabriel Country Club this morning, under the auspices of the lady golfers. Miss Alice Tobey, the captain, is responsible for the idea, which has met with most gratifying response.

The caddies will play the golf and the ladies will be the caddies. At least half a dozen women golfers have already promised their services in this honorable position.

The caddies who will take part are Rafael Martinez, John Seaby, Willie Nelson, Fred Shipple, Charles Schroonover, Charles Schroonover, Max Bertillon, Frank Simmons, Serafin Giradellas, and Oron Lary.

Caddies' tournaments are held annually back East. Tobey has been corresponding with a number of eastern golfers with a view to arranging hers on the same lines. Even those fore his return to America to make Jack Johnson "right or crawl."

"Langford is a practical fellow, and he will be able to take care of himself," declared his manager. "People know what Sam can do, and the big fellows, so they don't care to pay much money to see him hammer second-raters into submission."

Langford has mapped out a big campaign in Australia. Langford will take part in six fights at Sydney, aside from the prospective fight with Johnson. Bill Lang, Jack Lester, the big Australian, Bill Squires, Sam McVey, Bandaman Rice of England, and probably Dave Smith, the Australian light-heavyweight will be served up in twenty-round battles.

"As for the proposed battle with Jack Johnson, we have McIntosh's word that he will arrange it. Johnson has signed a contract with McIntosh which calls for three battles and we figure that his opponents will be Langford, Bill Lang and Jack Lester. Johnson will receive $100,000 for his services."

Charles Cotton is anxious to enter the Santa Monica road race. He has stripped a Loco "Thirty" down to racing form and the blanks are to be signed today. Charles will wear that Willie-boy hat when he drives and is confident of winning the light or the medium-car event. The only trouble is that two entries were lost yesterday when Charles announced that he expects to start in the race.

LITTLE JOE RIVERS ATE SPARRING PARTNERS ALIVE

BY R. A. WYNNE.

A LITTLE brown whirlwind broke loose yesterday afternoon at Doyle's camp and ambushed some one who came into the ring and fight him.

It was Joe Rivers, the wonderful little Mexican fighter who has been training as he never trained before, preparatory to his fight with Kilbane next Monday at Vernon.

Rivers was on edge. Willie Rooney, his trainer, had been holding him down to skipping rope and shadow-boxing until the little Mexican fire-eater became nervous and suddenly dropped his work and demanded that Rooney and some one to fight him.

"I want to fight some one," said Rivers, waving his arms. "I am tired of this make-believe shadow-boxing. One of you fellows come in here and let's have it out." And Joe stretched his arms and looked long and hard toward his husky brother, Andy, who has been one of his training partners at Doyle's.

Andy Rivers looked at Rooney and when he received the word to go, immediately slipped off his clothes and appeared in a tunic in his fighting gear.

Rivers looked at his brother fondly as he came into the ring and then with a grin on his dark face leaped at him and for the next four rounds of the prettiest boxing contest witnessed at Doyle's came off.

Rivers went into his brother with a hearty good that kept Andy on the defensive throughout the fight. The contest showed the wonderful power of Rivers. He was now in his element and his footwork was a revelation. He was on top of the game until the end of each round.

At the end of the fourth round Andy Rivers looked at his head and held out his arms to the trainer to remove. Rivers was waving his arms and Rooney was waving his arms and Rooney was waving his arms and Rooney was waving his arms.

GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW.

H. O. Harrison, who is hunting in the woods of the Northland, will soon return with stories of his prey. Harry has shot at everything that has legs or wings and, perhaps, he has bagged enough to eat. We are all anxious to hear what he will have to say about the game and the way his shells worked just how the gun acted. Every time he missed it was the fault of the gun.

"Cap" Harmon D. Ryus started last night for the happy hunting grounds near Madera. He has his own preserve staked out and expects to shoot enough doves to supply his friends for a week. "Cap" is a mighty hunter and knows just where to get the birds. Be sure to put in your order for a dozen. He may return tonight.

Rev. Harry M. White with his single-cylinder Reo is up in the Angeles Valley whipping the streams for trout and then chasing over the plains after deer. In the meantime, he is between trout fishing and deer hunting. Harry takes a few not shots at a deer or two. No, he never hits them, but it's lots of fun shooting into the woodland. On his back he expects to shoot at a mud-hen on Elizabeth Lake.

Teddy Tetiaff and the Flat are in Phoenix. If there are any bumps on that game yesterday, too much driver does not know he will find them on the return trip. Look out for that car in the race. At the same time keep your eye on Tetiaff in the Santa Monica road race. He may win.

Entries for the Santa Monica road race are coming in one by one. The task of promoting this contest is a big one and A. M. Young is being kept steadily at it every day. Of course, the others are hustlers, but these are busy times and there is much to do with the new models which are coming in each week.

"Confederate States of America," no that's not it. It's C. S. Anthony of the Regal. If you are confused about his initials just remember that the grand states of his best bride fix C. S. in your mind.

Jerry Woodfill did not attend the baseball game yesterday. Too much business with the Oakland was his way of expressing the peculiar fact that he did not occupy a place in the grand states. Jerry will be there tomorrow and also on Sunday morning, plugging and pulling for the team that is fighting the hardest.

That Rincon road fund at the Automobile Club of Southern California was swelled to the $1500 mark last night when the contribution of Frank N. Pfaffinger was received. The $2000 notch is soon to be reached and with the money already subscribed in Santa Barbara and the funds from the benefit Monday and Tuesday at the Auditorium, a tidy sum will soon be in sight for the big

*Posses Scour Orange Lands
for Fugitive Gunman.*

Ten ranchmen were selected to use saddle-horses in a search, and Deputy Sheriff Aguirre, and the Asusa authorities, ranged up and down the avenues between the groves, in automobiles.

Constable Saunders of Covina, with Deputy Constable Fairly, watched the place where the renegade's brother-in-law, in the Mexican quarter of Covina, was said to have seen the fugitive at Covina in the early morning, and borrowed money from him.

Orange Ice Cream.
This orange ice cream is comparatively common. It differs in a tried and true recipe. Add three cups and two cups of sugar together and add to one pint of milk. Add the grated rind of one light in complexion, with hair that has a tendency to be brown. He has four gold teeth in front on the upper jaw, weighs about 145 pounds, has a sandy moustache, and is about 40 years old. He is easily singled out from a crowd of Mexicans, as he is of the light-colored breed of the Sonora Indians.

Deputy Sheriff Wright and Cochran watched at Covina with Constable Saunders last night, while Deputy Aguirre remained at the home at San Gabriel. The Azusa officers had men stationed at the scene of the shooting.

freight in small boats. Manila is the only port between Yokohama and Singapore where the steamers do not unload at sea.

THE TEST.

"Calamity howlers and fanciful dreamers yelled their heads off when President Taft insisted that the tariff on sugar and other commodities grown in the islands must be removed. They criticised Taft for his support of the measure and proclaimed from the
